WRITES LETTER IN HUN CAMP ON HUN PAPER

Mr. James Brown Writes Very Interesting Letter of What Is Going On In the War Circles In Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Brown are in receipt of the following very interesting letter from their son, James A. Brown, who is now somewhere in France, and has been in the very thick of the fighting for some time:

September 18, 1918.
Dearest Mother, Father and all:

Still in the land of the living and feeling fine. I am sitting in a shed built by the Germans and occupied by them for the past four years until a few days ago when the Americans ran 'em out of their boots. What were not killed and captured. I just finished shaving with a very good razor taken from a prisoner at the battle of the Marne and this paper I am writing on was left here by the Huns in their haste to get away. Ha, ha I also keep time with a German watch which I got at Cantigny. I have several souvenirs for you all but can't send them but will try and bring them to you when I come home.

Dear ones in my recent letter from you you say that you have not heard from me since June 3rd, well I guess you have received them by now. (Let me know about my allotment as I have wrote you before. I renewed it before it ran out and it should not have stopped. I received Jane's very interesting letter and have heard from oh so many of my friends but we are on the go most all of the time and believe me I have very little time for writing so if you do not hear from me for weeks at a time do not worry for as the saying goes no news is good news. I hear regular from Sis and Dave and they have sent me some Washington papers and also receive your papers and I sure do read everything in them. Ponto seems to get in bad once in a while. Ha, ha, give my best to Jim Purdon and tell him he is getting a good paper and not to forget my old job when I return.

Well Dad what did you think of the world's series it don't look like the Nationals will ever win again. You tell C. W. to stick to his job and not worry about the war because we will take good care of this world series and any how there are lots of men in the states to do all of the fighting before the boys have to come in like they are doing in Germany. Why Dad in this drive a few days ago some of the prisoners we took were not over 15 years old and some were over 50 years old, so you can see what this once great army is coming to. Really Dad the way our army is taking to this war has put new life in the allies and I don't see how the Huns can hold out much longer. I expect to be home by the Fourth of July at least so you can start fixing up my room for me.

Well Dad I hardly know of a thing to write as I wrote you yesterday. Give my best to every one in dear old Maysville.

Well dear Mother and Father I hope this finds you all well and in good health as it leaves me. Give my love to Ma Heflin, Jane, C. W. and Cleon and regards to all my friends on Fifth avenue with love and kisses to you my dear parents will close for this time.

Your loving son,
JAMES.

P. S.—Give my best to Tom Russell, Harry Purnell, Jack Orr, Jim Purdon, Rooster Hauke, Eagle Hayes, Pat Gantley in fact all of my old friends and tell them we are giving the Huns hell on all sides.

SUDDEN DEATH LAST NIGHT

Mrs. Katie Driscoll was stricken with paralysis last midnight at her home on Fifth street, and died before a physician could be secured.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Maley, old-time residents of this city, and was well-known by a large number, who were grieved to learn of her sudden summons.

She was the wife of Mr. John Driscoll, and the funeral will occur from St. Patrick's church, the interment following in the Washington cemetery.

WHOLE BELGIAN COAST NOW FREE OF THE HUNS

Greatest Victory For the Allies Since the Marne—New and Powerful Allied Forces Will Now Be Thrown Into Battle.

Paris, October 18 — The road to Brussels is open. New and powerful forces can now be thrown into the battle in Belgium through the gates of Ostend, which have fallen in to the hands of the Allies. Glorious as has been the victories of the last three days, the future looms even more brilliantly before the Allied command. But yesterday was the most glorious for the Allies since the victory of the Marne. It fittingly terminated a wonderful battle of three months, which was opened by General Mangin's troops on July 18.

The capture of Ostend was marked by the entrance of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth.

Many cities have been liberated and hundreds of square miles of territory retaken. The results have been splendid. But the victory in Belgium is not all. The British south of LeCateau have broken into the German positions and now threaten the Hunting line. The whole German defense system eastward to the Meuse is in peril.

The first result of forcing the Germans back to the Ghent-Tournai-Vall enclosures line in yesterday's fighting, has been to sap the enemy's defenses before they have been able to reach their farther south.

ENEMY DRIVEN FROM COAST OF BELGIUM

Demoralized Germans in Full Retreat Toward Antwerp

Germany has lost the whole of the Belgian coast, which for four years has been the base of submarine and aerial attacks against England and English shipping. Ostend has been taken, Lille has been occupied and Douai has fallen. Belgian patrols are in Bruges, which is only about eight miles from the Dutch frontier. German forces, defeated and demoralized, are in full retreat toward Antwerp.

Over a wide strip of the front in Belgium and northern France the British, French and Belgian armies have swept forward with relentless speed, crushing rear-guard detachments left behind by the Germans to retard pursuit. Enormous quantities of materials have been captured by the Allies and the number of prisoners taken steadily is mounting.

Keeping step with this movement, although at a slower pace, the Allied forces farther south have been moving ahead. Two American contingents are operating east of Cambrai and St. Quentin. One is working with the British and is aiding in the advance into the German defenses east of LeCateau. The other is with the French and is assisting materially in the attempt to smash in the right flank of the German salient northeast of Laon. In both these regions the Allies have found German resistance stubborn and have been forced to fight their way ahead in the face of hurricanes of bullets and shells.

Notwithstanding the bad weather and the terrible condition of the ground, Gen. Pershing's men have gained ground east of the Argonne forest. Cote Chatillon, a dominating height, has been taken and positions near it are held solidly by the Americans.

SUNDAY BAN ON AUTOS RAISED BY GARFIELD

Washington, October 18—Fuel Administrator Garfield today lifted the ban on gasolineless Sundays, effective at once.

Should stocks of gasoline again fall dangerously low, it was stated at the Fuel Administration office, the request would be renewed. It is probable that priority orders will be issued for shipment of gasoline overseas.

In announcing the withdrawal of the request, the Fuel Administration said that through the loyal response of the public, 1,000,000 barrels of gasoline was saved for the military forces.

DEATH OF FORMER MASON COUNTY WOMAN

Mrs. Noble Swice, formerly of this county, died at her home in Cincinnati after a two days' illness of influenza. She is survived by her husband and two small children. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Amos McLaughlin of the West end and was well known throughout this section.

APPEAL MADE FOR CHICKENS FOR SOLDIERS

Our Sick Boys at Camp Taylor Badly In Need of Soups and Broths That Will Help Them Back to Normal.

The following appeal has been made by the Fire Underwriters Association of Kentucky through the local Insurance Agents, for dressed chickens for making soups and broths for the sick at Camp Taylor:

"Louisville, Ky., October 12, 1918
"To Patriotic Insurance Agents of Kentucky:

"You have been informed through the press of the situation at Camp Taylor, due to the large number of cases of Spanish influenza. At present there are over 9,000 cases in the base hospital there, and the authorities are using every available means of battling against the disease. They have issued a call for delicacies for the sick, and the good women of Louisville and nearby communities have responded nobly with a supply of jellies, etc., sufficient it is believed, to meet their needs. Our women are also offering their service as nurses.

"The authorities of the base hospital are now most in need of dressed chickens (to be used in making soups and broths for the sick) and eggs. The need is urgent, and the thought has occurred to us that the good friends of the boys out in the state in territory surrounding Louisville would be only too glad of an opportunity to help by supplying them with the needed chickens and eggs.

"We are therefore addressing this circular letter to you, asking that you will organize yourselves in your individual localities, and spread the news in order that all who are able may have a share in the good work.

"As the need may continue for some time, we would ask that you arrange for periodical shipments of these supplies in order that there may not be a congestion and that the supply may continue while the need lasts.

Your prompt and generous co-operation will be very much appreciated by the Fire Underwriters Association of Kentucky.

This appeal will no doubt meet with a most generous response by good people of Mason county who are always ready to contribute to the relief of the boys in the service.

The following Insurance Agents of the city at a meeting held Thursday afternoon contributed $2 each toward a fund to provide the first shipment of chickens, which was made by the Manchester Produce Company:

Wood & Ewan.
W. C. Watkins.
H. L. Walsh.
Sherman Arr.
James H. Hall.

M. F. Coughlin.
W. R. Warder.
A. G. Sulser.
H. C. Curran.
W. H. Key.
C. G. Gault.

Any one in the city or county desiring to have a part in doing for our soldier boys who are sick at Camp Taylor will bring or send chickens to the Manchester Produce Company where they will be prepared for shipping. It is the desire of those in charge of the work to make the second shipment Saturday, October 19th.

FORMER MAYSVILLE BOY GOES TO TRAINING CAMP

James Needham Parry, Grandson of Dr. J. James Wood, to Start in Central Officers Training School in Pennsylvania.

The following is taken from the Pittsburgh Post of October 11th, and one of the number referred to is a Maysville boy, James Needham Parry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis K. Parry, former residents, now of Pittsburgh: Camp Lee, Va., October 10—Pennsylvania is to furnish 59 civilians to the Central Officers' Training School in the next class. These are among 300 civilians who will report to the school next Sunday. They are drawn from the states from Maine to Virginia.

Philadelphia leads the Pennsylvanians, with 25 of the state's 59 representatives. Pittsburgh has 13 civilians in the list, and the rest of the state furnishes 21 men. These men will enter for a four months' course, which is calculated to fit them for second lieutenants in the United States Army.

About half are men who would be in class No. 1 under the new draft, and the remainder are drawn from men of deferred classification. In case the latter fall to maintain the pace required of them it will be optional with them whether or not they remain in the service. The class 1 men will be inducted for the period of the war, and in the event they fail to qualify as lieutenants they will serve as enlisted men.

The Pittsburghers on the list are: Ashley H. Brockett, 1835 Bluff street; Daniel J. Carwell, 122 Broad street; Nathan Dunn, 908 Locust street; Russell Frazier, 5703 Northumberland avenue; George W. Lawther, 1465 Dorchester avenue; Thomas McAllister, 7041 Monticello street; James N. Parry, 400 South Linden avenue; John M. Starr, 300 West North avenue; Lawrence B. Swayne, 334 South Negley avenue; William E. Thompson, 6101 Staunton avenue; Samuel H. Tynan, 9 Granville avenue, and George G. Williams, Allen avenue.

Word is received here that Mr. Eldridge Ransdell of Syracuse, N. Y., has recovered from a very serious case of Spanish influenza.

Mr. Robert Willocks, who has been confined to his home on West Fourth street for the past week is convalescing.

$1,000,000 EACH MINUTE TO REACH QUOTA

Tremendous Outflowing of Dollars Must Be Made Within the Next Thirty-Three Hours.

Washington, D. C., September 17, Public Ledger, Maysville, Ky. (Special).
Subscriptions reported and estimated up to noon Thursday amount to $4,000,000,000, leaving at least $2,000,000,000 to complete the Fourth Liberty Loan. Only two days are left within which to raise this vast sum. No country on earth but America can do and must do it. The destinies of the world and the hopes of civilization are centered upon America. We shall fail in everything we have fought for and hope to gain in this war if the Fourth Liberty Loan is defeated. Let every true American citizen today examine himself under the white light of patriotism and say whether or not he has done his utmost in this emergency. The highest obligation of duty and patriotism command every true American to go immediately to his bank or to his Liberty Loan Committee and subscribe to the limit of his ability to the Fourth Liberty Bonds. Don't wait to be urged, be as quick to your part in this Fourth Liberty Loan battle as our soldiers in France are quick to obey the orders to charge the enemy. Buy Liberty Bonds on the installment plan if you cannot buy them for cash. Every patriotic bank will help you. If every patriotic citizen will do his duty today victory for the Fourth Liberty Loan is certain. The continued victories of our armies in Europe, the certain defeat of our enemies and the glorious triumph of the cause of Liberty depend upon what the American people do in the remaining two days of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.
W. G. McADOO.

Washington, October 18 — The fourth Liberty Loan today neared the home stretch of the campaign with $4, 250,000,000 subscribed and $1,750,000 to be raised in two days remaining.

Washington, October 18—One million dollars a minute is what the nation must subscribe between now and midnight tomorrow if the Fourth Liberty loan is to go over the $6,000,000,000 mark. Treasury officials estimated today that just about 33 working hours remained to the two million solicitors when they set out this morning for a whirlwind finish to the three weeks' campaign for the greatest war loan in all history.

The task before these workers was recognized as a stupendous one but there was no doubt here that it would be accomplished.

Officials have no doubt that the nation will respond liberally to the call for dollars, for failure of this loan not only would dishearten the American and Allied armies but would give new hope to the shattered German hosts now in retreat over half the Western front. An over-subscription officials said is all that remains as the cliffling proof to Germany that the war will be prosecuted without stint and at whatever cost until a just and lasting peace is made possible.

With less than 48 hours remaining in the campaign not a single Reserve District has attained its quota. Two, Atlanta and Philadelphia, officially have not reached the half-way mark. New York still has $800,000,000 to raise. St. Louis and Minneapolis are leading in the order named, with the latter claiming to have gone over the top.

INFLUENZA CLAIMS RISING YOUNG SPECIALIST

A telegram to his cousin, Mr. Lud M. Mills of this city, conveyed the news of the death at Jacksonville, Fla., of Dr. Harry Mills, on Wednesday night at his home in that city after only a brief illness of influenza, which he contracted while administering to his patients in that city. He was well-known in this city, and was a son of Mr. John Mills of Flemingsburg, and a brother of Mrs. Robert Manwaring of Covington. His remains will be interred at Flemingsburg.

NOT CLEAR TO SOME

In his New York speech President Wilson said that the war has well-defined purposes "which were not clear at the outset, but they are clear now." They were clear at the outset to the statesmen of Europe and to many of the statesmen of America. Great Britain and Japan took little time to get a clear view of the purposes of the war. Col. Roosevelt took little time to grasp the real significance of the conflict. General Wood and Augustus P. Gardner were not long in doubt. But to President Wilson the purposes did not become clear until April, for he says that "we came into it when its character had become well-defined." All through the political campaign of 1916 he stood upon the declaration that with the causes and issues of the war we have no concern, and even after the election he advocated a peace without victory. He had before him masses of evidence of German intrigue, but still the purposes of the war were not clear to his mind. He was represented at Berlin by Gerard, and in Belgium by Whitlock, who undoubtedly told him the truth, but still the purposes of the war were not clear to him. If the issues of war were not clear to his mind after such evidence as he had all through two and a half years of conflict, upon what basis can his Democratic partisans ask for confidence in his judgment in meeting the issues of peace? Will it not take him as long to see the issues of peace as it did to see the issues of war?

The brewers paid their money to Brisbane but got most of their lease of life from President Wilson and Mr. Hoover.

Do You Think There is No Competition?

If anyone thinks there is no competition amongst the big packers he ought to go through a day's work with Swift & Company.

Let him begin at the pens when the live stock comes in; let him try to buy a nice bunch of fat steers quietly and at his own price without somebody's bidding against him.

Let him realize the scrupulous care taken at the plant that not one thing is lost or wasted in order that costs may be held to a minimum.

Let him go up into the office where market reports are coming in, and reports of what other concerns are doing.

Let him watch the director of the Swift Refrigerator fleet, maneuvering it over the face of the country like a fleet of battleships at sea.

Let him take a trip with a Swift & Company salesman and try to sell a few orders of meat.

Let him stay at a branch house for an hour or two and see the retail meat dealers drive their bargains to the last penny as they shop around among the packers' branch houses, the wholesale dealers, and the local packing plants.

And then, when the day is over, let him have half an hour in the accounting department, where he can see for himself on what small profits the business is done. (Less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales.)

If he still thinks there is no competition in the meat business it will be because he wants to think so.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

CAPITAL CHAT

No Shortening of Term

Washington, October 18 — Three Democratic Senators from the South have had the hardihood to recommend the shortening of President Wilson's term of office by about six weeks. Of course they have not done so in so many words, but they have given their approval to a resolution reported to the Senate which undertakes to provide a way for seating Members of Congress more promptly after their election. Unless a special session of Congress is called by the President Representatives do not take their seats in the House until about 13 months following their election. The result is that in many cases they do not represent the sentiment that prevailed in their states when they were elected. Under the pending resolution the President, Vice President, Senators, and Representatives would begin their terms of office on the third Tuesday of January next following their election. Needless to say the majority of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate that reported the resolution did not favor such a shortening of Democratic rule.

Government Competition in Bonds

As a practical proposition the War Finance Corporation is a money-making institution for the government. In the flotation of the Bethlehem Steel Company notes a few weeks ago it is understood that the Corporation cleared a handsome profit, and now the selling of the notes of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company of Brooklyn furnishes another opportunity to add to the Federal income at the expense of the taxpayers of the city of New York. The notes, amounting to $33,400,000, were bought at 95 by J. P. Morgan & Co., who then organized an underwriting syndicate at $5. The War Finance Corporation participated in the syndicate to the extent of $12,500,000. The notes are being offered to the public at 98½, less a selling commission to brokers of 1½ per cent. If the notes are all sold, as seems likely will be the case, the Government will profit to the extent of one per cent. of its holdings, or $125,000.

More Saliva

Congressman Edmund Platt of New York was the author of an amendment to the recent bill authorizing the sale of additional war savings stamps that will be of great help in all future stamp drives. As the law now reads no person can purchase more than $100 worth of stamps at any one time. The provision, however, has been violated many times, even by the President himself, and Mr. Platt believes it should be wiped off the statute books, and everybody permitted to buy as many stamps as he pleases at one time up to the statutory limit of $1,000 in all. Although not reported by the Ways and Means Committee Mr. Platt's amendment was accepted by the chairman, and became a part of the bill without any objection being raised to it.

An "Also Ran"

Vice President Marshall must experience a keen feeling of his own unimportance when he reads the paragraph in the revenue bill under which he will have to pay an income tax on his salary. In enumerating the Federal officials who are subject to that provision the bill reads as follows: "The President of the United States, the judges of the Supreme and Infer-

STAND BY THE WAR

To Republican party says to the country—STAND BY THE WAR.

In this declaration of purpose is included the statement which the Democratic party seems to have adopted as a slogan—"Stand by the President."

Stand by, the President in support of all war measures is a duty and privilege which the Republicans have assumed as a matter of course, as to all that the great office implies, and in the performance of which duty the Republican party has functioned far more fully and efficiently than the Democratic party, and in which course we shall persist without waver or shadow of turning.

The Republican party says—STAND BY THE WAR.

This includes more. It includes, stand by the President; it includes stand by every public official, high or low, measured by the thoroughness with which that public official stands by the war; it includes stand by the government; stand by this country; stand by our allies, every one; stand against our enemies in this war, every one; stand against our enemies in this war, every one; stand by our soldiers in France and the soldier of our allies; stand by every effort for WAR SAVING and WAR GIVING in this country; stand for the Fourth Liberty Loan and every other war effort; stand for the "irreducible minimum" of peace terms so splendidly enunciated by Senator Lodge; stand by the war aims of this country to vindicate American rights, interests and honor and to forever end Prussianism in the world and the oppression which it typifies, and to make certain forever the inability of militarism, Prussian or otherwise, disturb again the peace of the world; stand irrevocably for a peace with victory only and against a peace based on a compromise of principles which would make a sacrifice of our grandchildren; stand for the preparation now of a sound and proper foundation for a policy of reconstruction after the war which will fulfill the economic needs and realize the spiritual ideals of our people, that the greatest good may come also to our own country from, and after, our supreme sacrifice.

All this we say—STAND BY THE WAR—and for this purpose we dedicate the last of our blood and of our treasure.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Maysville People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Maysville.

Mrs. W. A. Schatzmann, 605 East Second Street, says: "From the benefit I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills, which I buy at Chamberlain's Drug Store, I have every reason to recommend them. Whenever my kidneys have been irregular in action or I have suffered from weakness and lameness in the small of my back, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. They have always proven sufficient to quickly cure and attack."

Mrs. Schatzmann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Schatzmann uses—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. ## JAMAICA GINGER IN DEMAND BY TOPERS IN MAINE

Bangor, Me.—Deprived of whiskey, Maine toppers have fallen back on patent medicines, many of which are 40 to 90 per cent alcohol, and of late Sheriff Thayer of Penobscot county has taken to raiding vendors of the cure-alls. As the result of seizures made in Kingman and Lincoln there was an interesting session of court before Trial Justice Filfred L. Butterfield in Kingman.

S. L. Leach of Kingman was convicted of illegal deposit of liquors and fined $500 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail, with six months additional in default of fine and costs. The "liquors" referred to consisted of Jamaica ginger and essences, and a preparation labeled "beef, iron, and wine." J. J. Baldwin of Kingman, same offense and same kind of "liquors," was given a like sentence, and also on single sale charge was fined $200 and costs, with sixty days in jail and sixty days additional in default of fine and costs.

Appeals were entered and bonds furnished in each case. Large quantities of patent medicines, malt extracts, and hard cider were confiscated.

The more a wise man thinks the less he is apt to talk.

EX-GOVERNOR HOARD

Of Wisconsin says: "We fully appreciate that there is no necessity for two or three cream stations in one city, and that a cream station is unnecessary where a creamery is properly serving the farmers. We most heartily believe that farmers should build their own co-operative creameries and operate them on business-like principles. The cream buying station can not pay as much for fat as a well patronized and properly operated creamery. We believe, too, that the farmer who leaves his co-operative creamery to sell cream to a local cream station is working against his own interest and in time will be led to see his mistake."

Our creamery, built by Mason county farmers, wants your Butter Fat. (Price when we started July 1, 41 cents.) TODAY 60c.

CUT FIREWOOD TO IMPROVE WOOD LOT

Trees to Leave in the Farm-Timber
Tract and Those to Remove
For Fuel.

Washington, D. C., October 18.—In cutting firewood for this winter's emergency fuel supply the operation should be undertaken with the double purpose of furnishing heat and improving the farm wood lot at the same time. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a brief statement which tells what trees to leave and what to cut.

It recommends that the trees be marked for cutting now while the leaves are on them, even if other farm work prevents the actual felling until later, because it is easier to tell the different kinds by the foliage than by the bark. But the cutting should be done as soon as possible if the firewood is to be used this winter, so there will be some time for the wood to season.

In the New England and Middle Atlantic States the following kinds should be left standing to furnish lumber, except in the case of individual trees that are crooked, knotty, diseased, or defective: White pine, red spruce, balsam, chestnut, white oak, red oak, hard maple, yellow birch, tulip poplar, white ash, hickory and basswood.

Trees of Less Value

The trees of less value for lumber, or slow growing, and which should be cut are: melock, arbor vitae, black oak, scarlet oak, red maple, beech, gum, elm, gray birch, and ironwood.

In Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and south-east Missouri save: Yellow poplar, black walnut, red gum, white oak, red oak, cottonwood, hickory, white ash, hard maple, and basswood.

In these States the trees to be cut from the farm wood lot for firewood are black oak, red elm, beech, and red maple.

In the northern parts of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota the trees to be saved for lumber are: White pine, red pine, aspen, yellow birch, basswood, red oak, white ash, and hard maple.

Farmers in the southern section of these States may well cut out for firewood, and thus improve the value of their timber stands, the following trees: Jack pine, hemlock, scarlet oak, black oak, elm, and beech.

In the southern portions of these lake States — Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota — farmers would do well to save: White oak, red oak, white ash, basswood, hickory and hard maple.

The trees that may be removed for fuel in the southern farming section of these States are: Black oak, red elm, and beech.

AT STATE HEADQUARTERS

The State United War Work Campaign Headquarters have been opened in Louisville in a conveniently located ground floor store at 643 South Fourth street, and everything is now in fine running working order. No more convenient location for the State Headquarters could have been found, as the place is central, accessible to all street car lines, either direct or by transfer, and within the shopping and business district of the city.

Inside the building, walls are flaming with the posters gotten out by the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Y. W. C. A., the War Camp Community Service, the Jewish Welfare Board, the American Library Association, and the Salvation Army. Each of these posters tells its story in an impressive, dramatic way, clearly and straight to the point.

Above the desk of each department of the work is a placard giving the name and office of the head of that department.

C. A. Tevebaugh is the State Campaign Director, and the following secretaries are easily located: Miss Wilhelmina London, Women's Department, Y. W. C. A.; Frank J. Resler, Rural Organization and War Camp Community Service; C. C. Camden, Victory Boys; Miss Mary Parker, Victory Girls; S. J. Boldrick, National Catholic War Council; C. W. Morris, Parades and Jewish Welfare Board; D. H. Lyon, Student Department (Men); D. L. Thomas, associate; Miss Helen Becker, Student Department (Women); Benedict Elder, Speakers Bureau; George E. Stephens, Publicity; Mrs. Aubrey Cossar, assistant.

Special attention is called to the visitor's department in charge of Geo. T. Settle who also represents the American Library Association. Mr. Settle will be glad to meet at State headquarters all visitors who desire to meet at State headquarters all visitors who desire to visit Camp Taylor. Of course such visits are not encouraged just now on account of the influenza epidemic, but it is hoped that normal conditions will be restored by the time the United War Work Campaign is in full swing, immediately at the close of the Liberty Loan campaign. Then all visitors will be cordially welcomed at the camp as before and Mr. Settle will be pleased to show them about if they call at State headquarters.

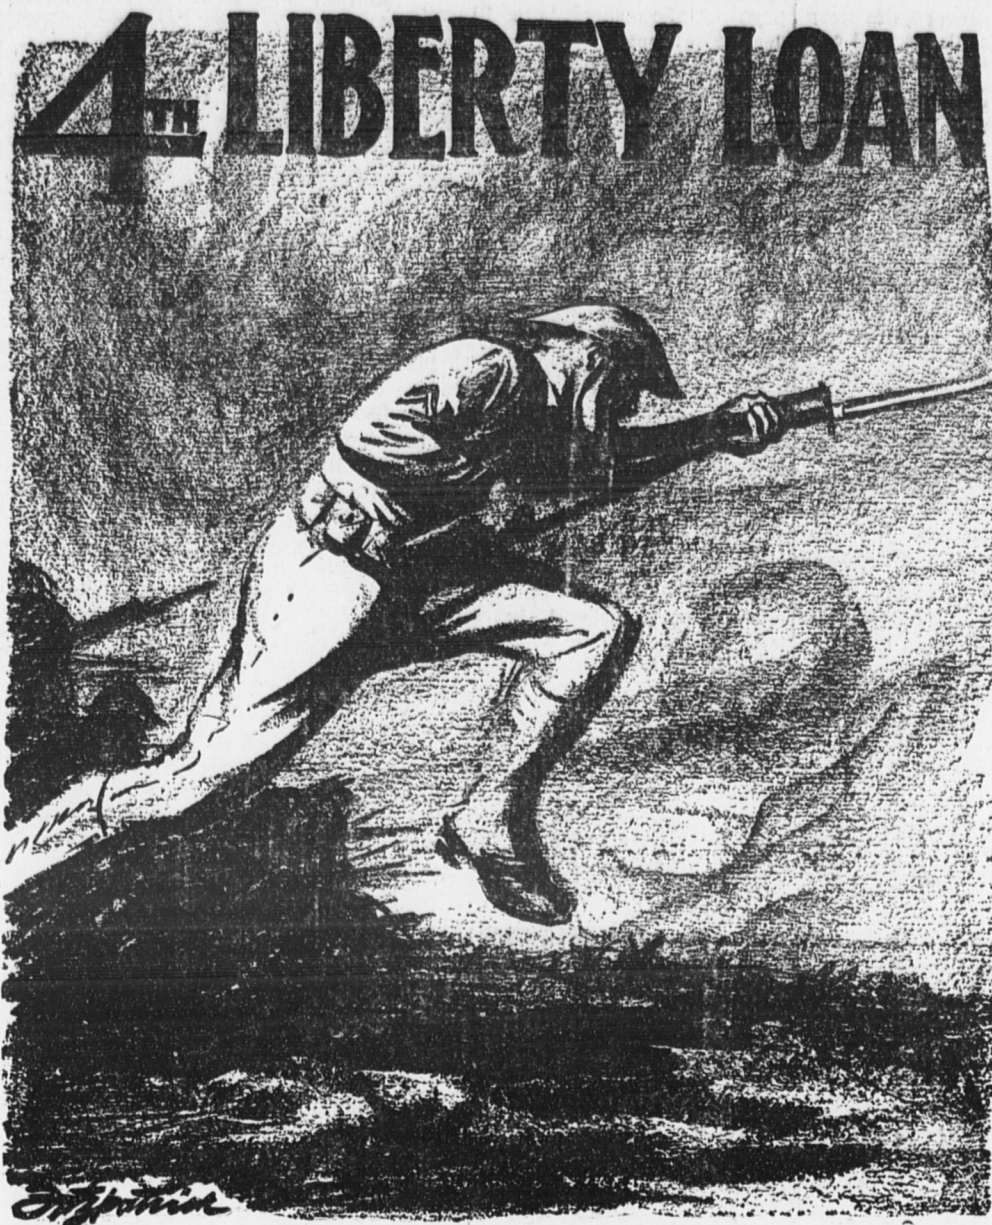

Added to the directors and secretaries is a competent staff of stenographers and clerks, everybody busy and keyed up to the highest pitch, determined to make the United War Work Campaign the greatest campaign of the kind ever attempted and with the one idea of a sweeping victory constantly in the mind of each campaign worker.

An artist's wife never admires his work so much as when he is drawing a check for her.

Are You With Him?

HERO OF SERGY ONCE A CLERK IN LAW OFFICE

New York.—James Hyland of 121 Fort Greene place, Brooklyn, whose exploit in holding Sergy with only one other survivor of an entire platoon has been related in dispatches, is a sergeant in the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth infantry and had been recommended for an officers' training school several weeks before the Sergy episode. He is 25 years old.

Frederick W. Brooks, Jr., of Brooks & Brooks, lawyers, 12 Broad street, where Hyland was a clerk until called into service, recalled the plain spoken boy in knickerbockers who had applied for a job in September, 1910. He told Mr. Brooks that he had spent six months in one job and two weeks in another.

"Well, if you have had two positions and are 17 years old, as you tell me, why don't you wear long trousers?" I asked him. His answer was what decided me.

"I never knew that long pants made the man," he replied quickly. In May, 1916, Hyland enlisted in the Sixty-ninth regiment. He went to the border and became company clerk and corporal. He was promoted to sergeant after the Rainbow division had been organized.

A movement has been started in Brooklyn to have Hyland sent back as a Liberty loan speaker next month.

SCIENCE HUNTS COAL SOURCES

Philadelphia, Pa.—As coal experts predict that anthracite coal is going to be scarce this winter, all of the inventive genius in the anthracite industry has been hunting for new sources of supply. Operators are working abandoned mines, installing new devices and putting in electric power.

The barrier pillar between the New Boston and Mill Creek collieries, containing 500,000 tons of anthracite, is to be mined. Bancroft mountain, south of Ashland, is to be stripped of its surface coal veins for a stretch of two miles. Fifty years ago this mine was supposedly worked out, abandoned, and then flooded with water.

With a dwindling force of 144,000 men in the anthracite mines and the prospect of this number being still further depleted by the July draft, the industry is fighting harder than ever before, if possible, to maintain a maximum output close to 275,000 tons of anthracite a day.

If you are unable to hold your temper get a strong man to hold you.

EAVESDROPPERS IN LINE WAINED

Willow, Cal.—The displeasure of the Glenn County Council of Defense has been incurred by "listeners-in" on party telephone lines in the country districts of the county. As a result Superior Judge William Finch, chairman of the council, has had letters sent to all subscribers on the telephone lines. This letter states that the system of fire control in the grain districts has been hampered by the prevailing custom of eavesdropping on the telephone lines, this preventing the rapid sounding of alarms in time of fire in the grain districts.

The letter recites that those "listeners-in" are subject to a severe punishment, and that the practice must be stopped or prosecutions will follow.

If fame came only after death no man would kill himself striving for it.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO HELP U. S. SCHOOL GARDEN ARMY

"Every one of the twenty-two million school children of the United States should be given the opportunity to feel that he has a part in the work of winning the war," says Mrs. Mary K. Sherman, formerly Secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, now serving as Assistant Regional Director of the United States School Garden Army, in charge of the Garden Army activities of club women.

"One vital service that may be put within reach of those boys and girls is the chance to produce food. There is no other one thing that comes so distinctly home to every individual as food, and if every child is shown that by raising even a little food that he himself eats he will be helping to keep the soldiers on the battle fields from going hungry, he will see that he has a part and can help in the great world struggle."

struggle.

"Secretary Franklin K. Lane, through the Bureau of Education, has put in operation a practical plan for the mobilization of the school children of the country for garden work. The responsibility for bringing this opportunity within reach of the children rests very largely upon the women. The General Federation of Women's Clubs, through its Department of the Conservation of National Resources, is urging its membership of two million women to aid in the work for school gardens. The citizens of a community who do not make it possible for the school superintendents, principals and teachers to conduct school gardens, according to the plan of the United States School Garden Army, are not awake to their full duty. Collective support and individual service must be given and public interest aroused. We must vision the possibilities and keep in mind that the aim of the United States School Garden Army is to nationalize, unify and to greatly extend the work now being carried on by the school children of America.

"It is one of the anomalies of life that good often comes out of evil. As this war is the most destructive in all history, so are the potentialities for good beyond estimation. This opportunity for garden work by the school children of the country is three-fold. The material help in the production of food, the sense that it will give each child that he is doing his part in winning the war and, of greater importance than either of these, is the benefit to the schil from an educational viewpoint. The opportunity is so full of possibilities that unless we utilize it othe full the gardens will fall short in the highest sense, notwithstanding satisfactory patriotic and economic results.

"In the garden the mysteries of nature are unfolded. Under sympathetic guidance the child's imagination is stimulated and his powers of observation are developed. Trees, flowers, waving grain field, bird, mountain and valley will come in time to have their full meaning to the boys and girls who are taught to see nature's lessons in their first garden.

"Now is the time to plan for next summer's work. If the fathers and mothers do their part the children will do theirs, and the little citizens of tomorrow will be better equipped than ever before the responsibilities of life, and will be glad and happy in their ability to give immediate service."

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

CONSERVATION WEEK POSTPONED TO DEC. 1

Influenza Epidemic Has Caused the Food Administration to Change the Dates of This Important Meeting.

Louisville, October 18—Because of the unsettled condition of the country due to the nation-wide influenza epidemic, the Food Administration has postponed "Conservation Week" from October 27th-November 2nd to December 1st-7th. Following receipt of this decision from Herbert Hoover, Federal Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett announced that the intervening period of five weeks would be utilized to the fullest extent in perfecting an organization and doing all such other preparatory work as the situation permits.

Mr. Sackett at the same time made the statement that the military situation, encouraging as it is, formed no adequate reason for the relaxation of conservation efforts, and said the Food Administration would expect the owners of Kentucky to do during the next twelve months even greater work than they have done heretofore.

"Recent European developments make a greater saving of food necessary," Mr. Sackett said. "The evacuation of Allied territory imposes upon the American people the responsibility for feeding an additional civilian population. This is a task which will be welcome to the people of this country, but it is a task, nevertheless, and a task equally as important as the shipping of men and munitions to Europe."

It had been intended that in every church in the United States and in every lodge room would be read a message from United States Food Administration Hoover next Sunday, the beginning of Conservation Week. Fred Hardwick, chairman of the Fraternal and Religious Division for Kentucky, has notified the ministers and lodge heads that this conservation Sunday has been postponed until December 1st. The Four Minute Men of the nation, who had planned to devote an entire week to the discussion of the food situation, likewise will defer their activities until the new week of the campaign in December.

Mrs. Morris Gifford, chairman of the Kentucky Conservation Division, and Miss Alexina Booth of the Division of College Women, have completed an organization of women whereby the new food card would have been taken into every home in Kentucky by a campaign worker who would have a personal conversation with the housewife. The women who have agreed to do this work, numbering several thousand, will keep at work building their organization during the ensuing five weeks and will be advised by mail from time to time of the food needs of the Allies and American soldiers abroad. Mrs. Gifford is determined that the postponement of the campaign shall work to the betterment of the organization, giving additional opportunity for preliminary meetings in the several counties.

The importance of the coming campaign may be judged from the fact that Mr. Hoover set the wheels in motion immediately after returning recently from a conference with all the Allied Food Administrators. At this conference, corrected returns from the world's harvest were obtained and shipping possibilities were discussed. The needs of the military and civilian population were surveyed and it was decided unanimously that America, with a total food crop no larger than last year's, must nevertheless save half as much food again as she saved last year. In other words, it is a military necessity that in place of eleven and three quarter million tons of food the shipments from America this year must be seventeen and one-half million tons.

"Mr. Hoover told the inter-Allied Council that whatever the war food program of the Allies required, America would endeavor to meet," Mr. Sackett said. "This is an obligation measured in terms of human life that rests on every American."

"The new program is less specific but no less definite than that of the last twelve months. During the last year, the Food Administration met one emergency after another as it rose. This year it will be a long, steady pull directed to the whole food situation and not so much to particular commodities. After a year's experience the Food Administration is on a new footing here and abroad. The ways have been learned, the methods have been developed. The war conscience is active everywhere. The spirit which will carry this effort through to another triumph is alone the same, yet intensified by the year of anxiety and brightened hopes. Although the job will be harder during the next twelve months, Kentucky will do it in the usual way."

MAYSVILLE SOLDIER WOUNDED BY SHRAPNEL

Private Ben Middleman Writes to Home Folks, Telling Them of His Condition.

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Middleman from their son, Ben, who is one of the soldier boys somewhere in France:

September 17, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:
How are all of you today. I hope that all of you are in the best of health. I thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that the Germans finally sent me to the hospital with a slight wound in the leg. It took three battles before they got me, but I got quite a few of them before they got me.

I think this last drive will just about end this war. I hope so for I certainly would love to see all of you again soon. We went over the top at day break September 12 and we were still advancing when I was hit. The Germans will not fight at all as soon as they are cornered. The only thing that they are fighting with is their artillery. I have not had a letter from either of you for some time. I hope that there is some mail from you by the time I get back to my company.

Well dears good-bye I will write again in a few days. With love to everybody. Answer soon.

Put Your Last Cent Into Bonds

TURN your pockets inside out. Dump the last penny into the war chest. Wear patches on your trousers and patches on your shoes. Turn the cuffs on your old shirt. Shiver a little if need be in a fall overcoat.

But put this bond issue over the top. Work overtime once in your life. Work honestly for once, seven, eight, nine or ten hours a day. Work like your life depended upon it, for it does in effect. Be a real producer for the cause of humanity.

Help put this loan over. Don't go to sleep at the switch. Don't put off till tomorrow what you should do today. Don't imagine George can do it all. Don't try to shunt your obligation to your neighbor. Don't be a slacker.

Do your part in boosting the loan. Practice economy down town as well as at home. Don't order the best steak in the shop.

Don't buy the most expensive cigar in the case. Don't call a taxi when you can take a street car. Don't play the mob.

Try playing the patriot. Stop talking about how we're licking the Hun. Stop predicting peace by Christmas. Stop playing the Kaiser's game. Stop any other fellow you hear doing it. Stop trying to deceive yourself.

Wake up to the real situation. For this loan is lagging disgracefully. For you are helping put Uncle

Sam to shame. For you are double-crossing the boys over there. For you're helping make it possible for Germany to laugh at us.

And Germany isn't licked by a long shot. For God's sake wake up!

PRIDE

By S. FOSTER DAMON

Were you proud of our boys this morning? They are doing pretty well! Were you proud? But have you earned the RIGHT to be proud?

Every available man is giving himself to his country. He gives EVERYTHING. He gives his PAST—all his acquired knowledge, all his previous training; he gives his Present—every second of his time, every thought in his brain, every ounce of strength in his body; he gives even his Future—for he renounces his chances of success in his life-work, he faces multitudes of all kinds, even Death in the most horrible forms by fire, water, earth, and air.

And he is PROUD to do this.

Are YOU proud?

Are you willing to LEND while he GIVES?

Or are you the kind of parasite that accepts all and returns nothing?

Protect that man, in his supreme sacrifice, with barricades of bills, with sandbags of cash!

Save both him and the money! Save both! Subscribe! Subscribe till you, too, dare feel PROUD.

SAVING FOR YOUR FIGHTERS!

When we think of you men in, England and Italy who are doing the big stirring things, this job of keeping business going seems pretty prosaic for us fellows at home.

But there are many things we can do for you men; one of them is to save the resources you need—wool for clothes labor for war work. So in all our advertising we are asking men to buy clothes only when they do buy, to get only those that last a long time, and are guaranteed to satisfy.
